THE TRACK MATE IS A COMBINATION OF TRACK'S MILITARY HERITAGE, MIXED WITH THE MODERN DAY NEEDS OF THE OFF ROAD TOURER.

Track Trailer's rich history really began some 20 years ago as a tender supplier for the varied Australian Armed Forces.

Track Trailer won separate contracts from the Australian Army, RAAF and Navy to design and build custom trailers which could endure the worst conditions imaginable. The end goal was to design a suspension system which could outperform the tow vehicle.

The MC2 Asymmetric Link Suspension was created! This superior suspension and chassis system was complimented by a hardy multipurpose sheet metal body, the first of its kind, which featured a completely riveted and bolted construction. Track Trailer continued to perfect different versions of these trailers for all kinds of defence applications; from a Portable Sea Mine Detecting Station for the Navy, to a tandem ammunition trailer for the Military.

This trailer and suspension design earned Track Trailer its stripes, which helped provide a smooth transition into the Recreation Vehicle Industry. In 2000 Track Trailer released its flagship product the Tvan, which stole the imagination of the public and created a whirlwind of change that passed through the industry. As time progressed Track Trailer continued to display its forward thinking philosophy by producing more products and continually refining the existing range.

As Track Trailer looks back over the past 20 years it acknowledges and pays homage to its past by marrying modern design techniques, flair and a new bolt on philosophy directly to the sturdy base that made Track Trailer what it is today.
